CHESSE MOVES AND TAKES ON NEW IDENTITY

Chess Logistics Technology has relocated to new headquarters in larger offices in Trafford Park, Manchester. The new building is a purpose-built, stand-alone development that will provide Chess with more floor space and an improved technical infrastructure to support the growing customer base for its Empirica warehouse management software.

“Our sustained success means we have outgrown the facilities in Salford Quays where we have been based for the past eleven years,” says Alex Mills, Sales and Marketing Director at Chess. “Relocating gives us more space with the facilities and infrastructure to serve our customers more effectively and continue to develop our products and build the business.”

With the move, the company has also taken the opportunity to introduce new corporate branding, reinforcing its image as a market leading innovator of warehouse management systems.

The company’s new contact details are:
